National Provider Identifier Information

The National Provider Identifier (NPI) number is a Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) Administrative Simplification Standard. The NPI is a unique identification number for covered health care providers. When covered health care providers, health plans and health care clearinghouses submit claims/encounter data, they will use the NPI in the administrative and financial transactions adopted under HIPAA. The NPI number is required on all claim submissions and subsequent encounters. Claims may be denied if the rendering provider's NPI number is missing or invalid (if required for the Provider Type). Failure to do so may result in a denied claim.

NPI information can be updated using the following methods:

and the general public, as well as to safeguard the health and well-being of its members. Our goal is to be good stewards of healthcare dollars. The scope of the UnitedHealthcare Community Plan FWA program is focused on claims submitted by providers.

Additionally, that scope includes, but is not limited to, the reviewing of post service, pre-payment of health care claims for our members. The UnitedHealthcare Exchange Plan FWA program determines whether submitted claims meet certain protocol that avoids any question of a potentially suspicious claim:

- Billing for services/goods never provided (misrepresentation)
- Billing for services/goods not covered (i.e. not covered by the plan/policy)
- Duplicative billing for the same services/goods
- Billing without adequate supporting documentation
- Billing for services different than those actually provided (up coding)
- Billing separately for services/goods required to be billed collectively (unbundling)
- Improper billing of codes (i.e. CPT codes)
- Billing by fictitious, sanctioned, and/or unqualified providers

While our claim reviewing staff includes credentialed professionals such as Certified Professional Coders, Licensed Nurses and Medical Directors, please note that the scope of the UnitedHealthcare Exchange Plan program review for FWA does not include determinations based on either medical necessity or utilization management.

Contracted providers may contact their network representative or call provider services with any questions, and non-contracted providers may contact member services or submit a response to the area noted in follow-up communications to discuss any particular case.

COB Primary Carrier Information

When UnitedHealthcare is the secondary payer, additional COB primary carrier information can be obtained by accessing the claim detail in UHCprovider.com.

CLAIMS RECONSIDERATION PROCESS

Contracted Medical Providers

The first step is to request a Claim Reconsideration, and the second is to pursue a Formal Claims Appeal.

Step 1: Claim Reconsideration Request

A Claim Reconsideration request is typically the quickest way to address any concern you have with how we processed your claim. With a Claim Reconsideration request, we review whether a claim was paid correctly, including if your provider information and/or contract are set up incorrectly in our system, which could result in the original claim being denied or reduced. We encourage you to submit a Claim Reconsideration request any time you believe your claim was processed incorrectly. Examples of claims reconsideration include:

- Claims denied as exceeds timely filing
- Claims denied as needing additional information
- Claims denied as needing Coordination of Benefits information
- Claims processed with the wrong rate, resulting in an over/under payment
- Resubmission of Prior Notification or Prior Authorization information

How to submit a claim reconsideration request:

The preferred method for submitting claim reconsiderations is online with new features and functions to help streamline work for physicians and health care professionals. You can use the UnitedHealthcare Provider Portal > Claims & Payments to save time by submitting requests with electronic attachments and then track the status and view comments from claim processors in real time for each submission. For more information, visit UHCprovider.com.

The paper claim reconsideration form can be found on UHCprovider.com. Complete the form online, print it out and mail it with the requested documentation to the claims reconsideration unit:

When you submit a Claim Reconsideration request, you can expect to receive a response or notification of the reprocessing of your claim within 30 days of our receipt of your submission. If we review the claim based on your request and determine it was correctly processed, you can submit a Formal Claims Appeal, should you choose to pursue.

FORMAL CLAIMS APPEAL PROCESS

The second step is to request a formal claims appeal if you are not satisfied with the outcome of a Claim Reconsideration request.

Step 2: Formal Claims Appeal Request

Providers may submit a Formal Claims Appeal using the process outlined within the provider manual.

Mail to:
UnitedHealthcare
PO Box 6111
Mail Stop CA-0197
Cypress, CA 90630

A formal claim appeal is a comprehensive review of the disputed claim or claims, and may involve a review of additional administrative or medical records by a clinician or other personnel. UnitedHealthcare generally completes the review within 30 calendar days. However, depending on the nature of the review, a decision may take up to 60 days from the receipt of the appeal. Please allow 10 business days from this submission to enable us to begin processing the review before calling our Provider Services call center to request a status update.

The member, provider, or authorized representative may request a claim reconsideration or appeal by submitting comments, documents or other information to UnitedHealthcare. Providers should refer to the Administrative Guide for claim reconsideration or appeal information. If you are a network provider appealing a clinical or coverage determination on behalf of a member, or a non-network provider appealing a decision on behalf of a member, follow the appeal process outlined in the member's benefit plan document.

IF YOU WOULD LIKE TO PURSUE AN APPEAL ON BEHALF OF THE PLAN MEMBER, PLEASE GO TO

FOR AN APPROVED FORM SUITABLE FOR YOUR USE AS THEIR DESIGNATED AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVE.
